

Roles at Riverview

Teachers and Residential Instructors

Provide direct instruction in academic and independent living skills. If you have questions about a specific class or dorm, you can reach out to these individuals directly. Please remember that teachers and residential instructors are teaching and responsible for students during their shift and may not be able to take a call in the moment. It is best to send an email or leave a message to schedule a time when they will be able to connect without direct care responsibilities.

Student Lead

Has a small caseload (2-3 students). This person is a champion for the student and can answer questions about the students' day to day experience. If they don't know the answer to a question they can direct you to the right person. For example; questions about how to access links on a student's schedule, how to sign up for activities, when is picture day, how can I access the school calendar?

Head Teachers

Provide direct instruction, but also oversee the day to day within the classroom. Best people to answer classroom specific questions. For example; questions about upcoming field trips, banking, projects, outings. Questions about accommodations needed for the classroom.

Residential Supervisors

Oversee the day to day operations of the dorm. Supervise and support the Residential Instructors. Best people to answer questions about dorm specific questions. For example; questions about integration into residential life; questions about ADL skill development; questions about residential activities, independent living skills, food and technology in the dorm.

Advisors

Oversee the social/emotional needs of students. Best people to answer questions about social/emotional health. For example; questions about how your child is adjusting to the boarding environment, questions about developing skills or strategies to manage impulsivity or anxiety. Questions about social skills and peer relationships.

Coordinators (Clinical, Educational, Residential Program, Language and Social Development, Wellness and Recreation, Work Experience)

Members of the Leadership Team. Oversee the day to day operations and programming of their specific component of MS/HS and GROW. Best people to contact if you have programmatic questions or concerns. For example; questions about curriculum development, programming, staffing, structure and schedules, dorm/classroom placements, vocational programming, activities.

Administrative Team

Responsible for the overall operation, health and safety of the school. Oversee all departments. Can be reached to answer any questions or concerns about the operation, staffing and programming of the school.
